

THE MARGARET McDERMOTT PERFORMANCE HALL

Project Spotlight

WINSPEAR OPERA HOUSE: DALLAS, TX

The Margot and Bill Winspear Opera House at the AT&T Performing Arts Center in Dallas, Texas, is a 21st century reinterpretation of the traditional horseshoe shaped opera house. It is one of four venues in the AT&T Performing Arts Center and is specifically designed for performance of opera, musical theatre, ballet, and dance. This 2,200-seat performance hall and iconic architecture is one of the nation's premier performing art venues.

KEY PLAYERS:

Architect: Foster & Partners
 Distributor: Dallas Door & Supply Company

VT'S CONTRIBUTION:

VT's Architectural Wood Door Division worked with local distributor, Dallas Door & Supply Company to manufacture the doors for the project. The doors manufactured featured structural composite lumber cores. The doors were a custom 3-inch thick plain sliced walnut veneer with a custom finish.
